

WEBCAST | NOV 2017

How Talent Strategy and Leadership Development Can Strengthen Corporate Culture

Jannice Koors

SENIOR MANAGING DIRECTOR

In addition to developing a pay philosophy, the NACD's Blue Ribbon Commission report on Culture as a Corporate Asset cites two additional roles of the compensation committee that are directly connected to culture oversight: talent strategy and leadership development.

This webcast discusses how boards and management teams can cultivate:

- Talent management processes that explicitly include cultural criterion and rely on quantitative and qualitative assessments;
- Recognition and rewards systems that reinforce a desired culture and avoid unintended consequences; and
- Succession plans with emergency appointees and near-term bench depth, as well as leadership development plans that grow a culturally-aligned management team for the future state of the business

About the Author

Jan brings 30+ years of executive compensation and governance experience, advising boards and management on strategic human capital decisions tied to long-term value creation.

About Pearl Meyer

Pearl Meyer is the leading advisor to boards and senior management helping organizations build, develop, and reward great leadership teams that drive long-term success. Our strategy-driven compensation and leadership consulting services act as powerful catalysts for value creation and competitive advantage by addressing the critical links between people and outcomes. Our clients stand at the forefront of their industries and range from emerging high-growth, not-for-profit, and private organizations to the Fortune 500.

How Talent Strategy and Leadership Development Can Strengthen Corporate Culture |
pearlmeyer.com