

WEBCAST
| JUL 2024
| NACD

Is Your Board's Compensation Risk Assessment Doing Enough?

Stephen Huber

PRINCIPAL

Lisa Shall

MANAGING DIRECTOR

The most recent NACD Governance Outlook notes that outside of overseeing strategy development and execution, the most important area for board improvement, as reported by directors, is the oversight of risk management.

While managing risk takes many forms, the compensation committee's annual compensation risk assessment exercise can provide a framework for deeper board conversations about potential risks in corporate goals, governance, and leadership plans and practices.

In this webinar with Pearl Meyer and the NACD, we share details on conducting a more in-depth compensation risk assessment than is typical—including succession planning and executive talent management and development—and how such details work together to provide insight to pockets of risk that may not have been apparent.

---

About the Authors

Stephen advises on executive compensation for public and private companies, including benchmarking, incentives, pay-for-performance, and proxy analysis/disclosure.

Lisa specializes in leadership assessment and coaching, organizational design, and CEO/executive succession. She supports executive team development, change management, and talent processes to strengthen organizational effectiveness.

About Pearl Meyer

Pearl Meyer is the leading advisor to boards and senior management helping organizations build, develop, and reward great leadership teams that drive long-term success. Our strategy-driven compensation and leadership consulting services act as powerful catalysts for value creation and competitive advantage by addressing the critical links between people and outcomes. Our clients stand at the forefront of their industries and range from emerging high-growth, not-for-profit, and private organizations to the Fortune 500.

---

Is Your Board's Compensation Risk Assessment Doing Enough? | pearlmeyer.com